Michael Jingoian is a man of many pursuits. He is an entrepreneur, an employer, and a father – but most of all he is a concerned citizen. He believes that when you let go of the past, opportunities emerge that would normally not be possible.

As early as 17, Michael showed his political gall by initiating a bill that would put a student representative on every local school board and testifying before the Massachusetts State Legislature. His early exposure to the American political system resulted in total disillusionment and he decided that to be a transformative voice in politics, he would first need to achieve success in academia and business.

To that end, Michael received his BS in Economics from New York University. He graduated with a 4.0 in his major and received the Best University Thesis Award (not awarded every year). He subsequently earned a MBA from Bentley College and a CAS from Harvard University.

In 2001, Michael founded AngelVision Technologies, Inc. Each year since it was established, AngelVision has increased revenues 170 to 350 percent making it the 120th Fastest Growing Company in the United States as ranked by Inc. Magazine. AngelVision is recognized as one of the nation's best run companies and has won over 35 regional and national awards including:

2006 – InnoTech Innovation of the Year Award
2006 – The American Marketing Association MAX Award (1st Place for Excellence in Marketing)
2006 – Two Telly Awards for Interactive Marketing
2007 – Repeat Finalist for the American Marketing Association MAX Award
2007 – Three Internet Advertising Awards
2007 – Two Summit International Marketing Awards
2007 – American Business Stevie Award for Best Interactive Media Company for Business & Government
2007 – Five Blingy Awards for Excellence in Marketing
2007 – Five Telly Awards for Best Internet / Online Commercial

In addition to developing their revolutionary "Impact Movie" technology, Michael pioneered a holistic management philosophy that has allowed AngelVision to experience unprecedented growth. His management style led AngelVision to be voted the "15th Best Small Company to Work for in Oregon," and the company with the 3rd Best Benefits Package in the state: all this in an industry where most of AngelVision's competitors send their production overseas. In 2006, Michael was the recipient of the Pinnacle Award for Outstanding Mentoring of Fellow Professionals.

Michael's academic, business, and personal experiences have shaped his beliefs in human nature and organizational dynamics. According to Michael, "Our current 2-party system is destroying our freedoms, sovereignty and our children's future." Because of his deep concern for our nation, he founded RESET America to educate citizens about the urgent need to transform our government. RESET America is headquartered in Portland, Oregon, and employs three full-time "political misfits."
